

You can change the object identification mode by modifying the property in the configuration headline of a data area manually. This applies for the special second column "Object Identification" as well (e.g. you can use ObjectARD or ObjectId here). Using Drag and Drop, the Bulk Data Manager always creates "Object Identification" and "ParentObject".